Newsletter 6: October 13th 2023

Dear Parents,

The Senior Leadership Team have had the privilege of visiting every class to observe the children writing. We have all been impressed by the preparation undertaken to make Big Write a successful experience. Lots of great vocabulary is used and you can see progress from their first pieces in September. I hope you are able to join us on either the online Parents' Evening or for a face to face meeting. Please ensure you book your appointment to gain from this sharing and reflection of how your child is developing their sense of independence with their learning.

PAWS PRINTS

The Mills family have grown their own pumpkins to donate to the food bank.

WEEKLY NEWS:

Bedtime Stories

What a wonderful evening sharing bedtime stories. We really appreciate those that gave up their time to join us. It is easy to understand the importance of reading for pleasure when it can be demonstrated by snuggling down together and enjoying rich texts.

Packtype of the Week

Let's help our children to be organised, prepared and ready for every school day so they can learn more and remember more!

Sheepdog

This week the title is: 'A Poem'

Think about poem's you have read and enjoyed. Do they need to rhyme? Are there the same number of lines in each verse of the poem? What has inspired you to write a poem? Think of opportunities and experiences you have participated in recently. Maybe Harvest Festival is your inspiration.
